

Project Progress Report

This report summarizes the current status of the project.

The system has been implemented according to the initial plan.

Preliminary experiments show stable performance.

Several improvements are planned for the next phase.

Overall progress is on track.